6. Explanation of the rule, including the department's reasons for initiating the rulemaking:

Summary:

Rule 280 establishes the fees charged to owners and operators of sources of air pollution. The Maricopa County Air Quality Department (department) is largely funded by a fee for service model by charging permit application fees, annual administrative fees, hourly fees for staff time to process Title V and Non-Title V permit applications and emission based fees. Revenues generated from fees cover the operating costs of several programs within the department. Prior to this rule revision, revenues generated by fees exceeded the expenses of the fee funded programs within the department, resulting in a yearly positive balance in the department's fee fund. The department reduced a limited number of fees in Rule 280 in order to balance the fee revenues with the expenses of the department's fee funded programs. In addition, the department made several other revisions to update and improve Rule 280.

Background:

The department receives funding from three major sources: The Maricopa County General Fund, grants, and fees collected from owners and operators of sources of air pollution. Funds from each source cover the operating costs of specific programs within the department. Funds received from the Maricopa County General Fund cover a significant portion of the operating costs of the Air Monitoring Program. Funds from grants also cover operating costs of the Air Monitoring Program, a portion of the operating costs of the Compliance Program and all the operating costs of the Travel Reduction Program. Funds generated from fee collection cover the operating costs of the Dust Control Program, Small Source Program, Title V Program, Training Program and Enforcement Program. In recent years, the department has observed that revenues generated through fee collection have exceeded the expenses of the fee funded programs. As a result, the department initiated revisions to Rule 280 to address the excess fee revenues. An evaluation of the department's fee fund determined the majority of the excess fee revenues were coming from the Dust Control Program. Based on the analysis, the fees for the dust control permit fees categories of "0.1 to less than one acre" and of "One acre to less than 10 acres" were reduced. Reduced fee amounts were calculated for these categories and the new amounts are listed below.

The department also made several revisions to the rule. The revisions are listed below.

Detailed Description of the Major Amendments:

- Dust Control Permit Fee Reductions

Reduced permit fees in the dust control permit fee category of “0.1 to less than one acre” from $795 to $530 and reduced permit fees in the dust control permit fee category of “One acre to less than 10 acres” from $1,325 to $1,060. These fee reductions are expected to affect approximately 2,500 permits annually based on recent data.

- Accelerated Permit Processing for Dust Control Applications

Added an option for accelerated permit processing for dust control applications. Under the revision, an applicant would be able to request accelerated permit processing for a dust control application by submitting a completed application with a fee two times the fee amount listed in the dust control permit fee schedule. Applications submitted with the accelerated permit processing fee will be processed by the end of the next business day.

- Expanded General Permit Options

Offered three new general permits for the following sources: Crematories, Wastewater Treatment Plants and Asphalt Day Tankers/Tar Kettles. These new categories will provide fee reductions of $320 and $330 a year for sources that qualify. Approximately 70 sources are expected to qualify for these new general permits.

- Refunds of Asbestos Notification Fees

Offered renovation and demolition fee refunds, less a $350 nonrefundable fee, upon cancellation of a notification. A refund will be offered if the cancellation is received before renovation and/or demolition operations have commenced and if no revisions have been made to the notification from the date it was initially submitted.

- Changes to the Delinquency Fees

Added language to the delinquency fees section which will provide the possibility of increased delinquency fees for those applicants or permittees who fail to pay required fees on time. Prior to this rule revision, the rule language stated an applicant or permittee will be required to pay a $50 fee if payment is received 30 days after the invoice date or a $100 fee if the payment is received 60 days after the invoice date. The department added language stating an applicant or permittee will be required to pay a $50 fee, “or 5% of the amount due, whichever is greater” if the payment is received 30 days after the invoice date or a $100 fee, “or 10% of the amount due, whichever is greater” if the payment is received 60 days after the invoice date.

- Changes to the Annual Adjustment of Fees

Provided the option to annually adjust the following fees based on the Consumer Price Index: Non-Title V Annual Administrative Fees, General Permit Application Fees, General Permit Annual Administrative Fees, Burn Permit Fees, Dust Control Fees and Asbestos Notification and Plan Review Fees. Prior to this rule revision, Rule 280 required the Title V Billable Permit Action Fees, Annual Administrative Fees, and Annual Emissions-Based Fees along with the Non-Title V Billable Permit Action Fees, Annual Administrative Fees and General Permit Fees be adjusted annually. The Title V Billable Permit Action Fees, Annual Administrative Fees, Annual Emissions-Based Fees and the Non-Title V Billable Permit Action Fees will continue to be adjusted annually.

- Modifications to the Fee Tables

Made several modifications to the fee tables to improve clarity and usability. The fee rule was last revised in 2010 and fees have been adjusted annually thereafter per CPI. The department is unable to revise the fee rule annually but instead makes fee adjustments per CPI and includes them in an annual fee schedule. The fee schedule is posted annually on the department’s website. First, the department updated all of the Title V, Non-Title V and General Permit fees to the 2016 Air Quality Fee Schedule; these fees appear higher than in the current rule, but the department is not increasing these fees; these fees have been in effect since the CPI adjustment in early 2016. These fees were adjusted again in draft Rule 280 after August 31, 2016 to reflect the most current CPI. Second, the department added numbers and titles to all of the tables in the rule. Third, the department is deleted, added and revised several source categories in the Non-Title V source category fee tables and combined the Non-Title V source category fee tables with the Non-Title V annual administrative fee table. Finally, the department created a new General Permit Fee Table combining the General Permit Application Fee Table and the General Permit Annual Administrative Fee Table. This table lists the existing nine general permit types along with the three newly proposed general permit types.

Issues Raised and Discussed During this Rulemaking Process:

On June 23, 2016 the department held a stakeholder workshop and discussed the proposed revisions to Rule 280. During the workshop stakeholders raised concerns about the Stationary Dust-Generating Source General Permit. First, stakeholders were concerned the draft rule did not clearly specify that the permit covered landscaping using mechanized equipment. The department clarified that only landscaping that utilized mechanized equipment, e.g., bobcats, that disturb 0.10 acre or more would require permit coverage. Stakeholders proposed inserting “Landscaping with Mechanized Equipment” as an activity under the Stationary Dust-Generating Source category in the General Permit Fee table. The department considered the proposal and inserted the activity into the General Permit Fee table in the draft rule. Second, stakeholders were concerned that construction of pools and other small structures such as barbeque pits and shade canopies were not activities eligible for coverage under the Stationary Dust-Generating Permit category and proposed including them as eligible activities. The department considered their proposal and instead of including these activities under the Stationary Dust-Generating Source General Permit will continue to require pool builders (disturbing a total surface area of 0.10 acre or more) to obtain a Dust Control Permit. The construction of pools and other small structures are construction projects with finite timelines and the Stationary Dust-Generating Source General Permit excludes construction projects with finite timelines. Currently, pool builders must obtain a dust control permit for any project disturbing a total surface area of 0.10 acre or more. However, the dust permit fee for disturbing less than 1 acre has been reduced from $795 to $530. The department believes the construction of most small structures such as barbeque pits and shade canopies will not require a permit because the activities will not disturb enough acreage (0.10 acre or more) to require a dust control permit.

7. Demonstration of compliance with A.R.S. §49-112:

Under A.R.S. § 49-479(C), a county may not adopt a rule or ordinance that is more stringent than the rules adopted by the Director of the Arizona Department of Environmental Quality (ADEQ) for similar sources unless it demonstrates compliance with the applicable requirements of A.R.S. §49-112.

§ 49-112 County regulation; standards

§ 49-112(A)

When authorized by law, a county may adopt a rule, ordinance or other regulation that is more stringent than or in addition to a provision of this title or rule adopted by the director or any board or commission authorized to adopt rules pursuant to this title if all of the following conditions are met:

1. The rule, ordinance or other regulation is necessary to address a peculiar local condition.
2. There is credible evidence that the rule, ordinance or other regulation is either;
 - (a) Necessary to prevent a significant threat to public health or the environment that results from a peculiar local condition and is technically and economically feasible.
 - (b) Required under a federal statute or regulation, or authorized pursuant to an intergovernmental agreement with the federal government to enforce federal statutes or regulations if the county rule, ordinance or other regulation is equivalent to federal statutes or regulation.

8. Documents and/or studies referenced and/or reviewed for this rulemaking:

Not applicable

9. Showing of good cause why the rule is necessary to promote a statewide interest if the rule will diminish a previous grant of authority of a political subdivision:

Not applicable

10. Summary of the economic, small business, and consumer impact:

The following discussion addresses each of the elements required for an economic, small business and consumer impact statement under A.R.S. § 41-1055.

An identification of the rulemaking.

This rulemaking revised Rule 280 (Fees).

An identification of the persons who will be directly affected by, bear the costs of or directly benefit from the rulemaking.

The persons affected by this rulemaking will be all owners and operators of sources of air pollution subject to Maricopa County Air Pollution Control Regulations. This rulemaking results in a decrease in fees for owners and operators of dust-generating sources required to obtain dust control permits for projects 10 acres or less. It also results in a decrease in fees for owners and operators of crematories, wastewater treatment plants and asphalt day tankers/tar kettles that qualify for one of the new general permits. This rulemaking provides accelerated permit processing for dust control permit applicants and it provides refund options for owners and operators of asbestos renovation and demolition projects.

A cost benefit analysis of the following:

(a) The probable costs and benefits to the implementing agency and other agencies directly affected by the implementation and enforcement of the rulemaking.

Because this rulemaking leads to a decrease in fee collection, the department anticipates revenues generated by fees will decrease. The decrease in fee revenues is not expected to negatively affect the department since the revenues generated by fees prior to this rule revision exceeded department expenses, creating a yearly positive balance. The decrease in fees is anticipated to balance department fee revenues with department expenses. The department does not anticipate the decrease in fee collection will have any effect on any other agencies.

(b) The probable costs and benefits to a political subdivision of this state directly affected by the implementation and enforcement of the rulemaking

This rulemaking will directly benefit political subdivisions that own and/or operate sources of air pollution which will see a fee reduction under the rulemaking. Specifically, political subdivisions required to obtain dust control permits for a projects 10 acres or less will see a fee reduction as well as political subdivisions operating wastewater treatment plants or asphalt day tankers/tar kettles that qualify for one of the new general permits. In addition, political divisions may benefit from the accelerated dust permit application processing as well as from the refund options for asbestos renovation and demolition notifications.

(c) The probable costs and benefits to businesses directly affected by the rulemaking, including any anticipated effect on the revenues or payroll expenditures of employers who are subject to the rulemaking.

This rulemaking will directly benefit businesses that own and/or operate a source of air pollution which will see a fee reduction under the rulemaking. Specifically, businesses required to obtain dust control permits for projects 10 acres or less will see fee reductions as well as businesses operating crematories, wastewater treatment plants or asphalt day tankers/tar kettles that qualify for one of the new general permits. In addition, businesses may benefit from the accelerated dust permit application processing as well as from the refund options for asbestos renovation and demolition notifications.

A general description of the probable impact on private and public employment in businesses, agencies and political subdivisions of this state directly affected by the rulemaking.

The rulemaking will directly benefit those businesses, agencies and political subdivisions that own and/or operate a source of air pollution which will see a fee reduction under the rulemaking.

A statement of the probable impact of the rulemaking on small businesses.

The rulemaking will directly benefit those small businesses that own and/or operate a source of air pollution which will see a fee reduction under the rulemaking.

(a) An identification of the small businesses subject to the rulemaking.

All small businesses that own and/or operate a source of air pollution subject to Maricopa County Air Pollution Control Regulations are subject to this rulemaking.

(b) The administrative and other costs required for compliance with the rulemaking.

There are no administrative and other costs required for compliance with this rulemaking.

(c) A description of the methods that the agency may use to reduce the impact on small businesses.

The impacts of this rulemaking on small business should be beneficial as the rulemaking includes fee reductions, accelerated permit processing and new refund possibilities.

(i) Establishing less costly compliance requirements in the rulemaking for small businesses.

This rulemaking reduces fees for many small businesses and thereby establishes less costly compliance requirements.

(ii) Establishing less costly schedules or less stringent deadlines for compliance in the rulemaking.

This rulemaking does not create any new compliance schedules or deadlines.

(iii) Exempting small businesses from any or all requirements of the rulemaking.

All sources of air pollution subject to the Maricopa Air Pollution Control Regulations must pay fees and cannot be exempted from this rulemaking.

(d) The probable cost and benefit to private persons and consumers who are directly affected by the rulemaking.

Because this rulemaking results in a fee reduction for many businesses, private persons and consumers may see a direct benefit from the rulemaking.

A statement of the probable effect on state revenues.

The rule revisions will not impose increased monetary or regulatory costs on other state agencies, political subdivisions of this state, persons, or individuals so regulated. Without costs to pass through to customers, there is no projected change in consumer purchase patterns and, thus, no impact on state revenues from sales taxes.

A description of any less intrusive or less costly alternative methods of achieving the purpose of the rulemaking.

The purpose of this rulemaking is to decrease fee collection so revenues generated by fees match expenses for department fee funded programs.
